THE KING'S HOMAGE TO OUR DEAD IN ITALY

The Queen placing a wreath of rosemary and purple flowers on the Stone of Remembrance at the conclusion of the King's spoken tribute to the dead.

Children bringing bunches of hillside flowers to place on the Stone of Remembrance.

The King and Queen inspecting British graves in the cemetery.

A solemn and memorable moment in the state visit of the King and Queen to Italy was that in which their Majesties paid homage to British dead who lie in Italian soil at Montevecchio by Vicenza. Here, after saluting the Cross of Sacrifice and the Stone of Remembrance which stand amid some 300 British graves, the King paid his tribute in a noble speech and the Queen placed a beautiful wreath of mourning, afterwards making a tour of the graves.—(Daily Mirror photographs.)

CABINET WANTS DEFINITE PLEDGES FROM RUSSIA

Soviet Note Unsatisfactory Regarding Propaganda and Compensation for Murders.

RELEASE OF THE CAPTURED HULL TRAWLERS

Commons Debate To-night on Britain's Ultimatum—

M. Krassin to Reach London To-day.

Russia's reply to the British ultimatum, which expires on Friday, was considered by the Cabinet last night.

The Note is not considered wholly satisfactory, and the Cabinet is anxious for a more definite undertaking on various points, especially on these two British demands—(1) cessation of anti-British propaganda; (2) admission of liability for murder of British subjects and an undertaking to pay compensation.

In the House to-day Mr. Ramsay MacDonald will open a debate on the British ultimatum. Mr. Lloyd George, it is understood, will voice the views of both Liberal groups. M. Krassin, the Soviet trade chief, reaches London to-day, and will be received at the Foreign Office.

The two Hull trawlers arrested by the Russians have been released. The Soviets suggest a conference to regulate Anglo-Russian relations.

CONFERENCE SOUGHT TO THE QUEEN'S KISSES FOR PRINCE OF WALES.

Soviet Places "High Value" Affectionate Greeting on Return from Italy.

WAR ORPHAN'S BOUQUET.

TWO "VOICES" IN NOTE.

In its reply to the British ultimatum, the Soviet Government says:—

"The bitter and unfounded hostility of the British memorandum was absolutely unexpected.

"The method of ultimatums and threats is not the method by which partial and secondary misunderstandings between States can be resolved."

The actual proposals made by the Soviet are:—

A conference to examine and settle secondary points of dispute and also regulate once and for all and to the fullest extent the relations between the Soviet Government and Great Britain.

Question of compensation for damage done to British trawlers and for the detention of their crews to be submitted to an independent tribunal.

RECIPROCAL COMPENSATION.

Prepared to concede compensation to British subjects executed or imprisoned in Russia, if the British Government will compensate Russian subjects detained in British prisons.

Question of the limit of territorial waters (Russia claims twelve miles, when almost every other nation accepts the three-mile limit) is a matter for an international conference.

"As an evidence of good will," Russia has released all the arrested trawlers, including the Lord Astor.

The offensive communication sent by M. Weinstein to Mr. Hodgson, the British representative in Moscow, it is declared, was not sent a second time when returned, and can be recognised as an indiscretion.

The Note goes on to repudiate the "baseless assertion" that the Soviet has persecuted religion and also asserts:—

"The extracts and quotations cited by the British Government are a combination of invented, falsified, altered and arbitrarily supplemented extracts from deciphered telegrams."

"A THREAT TO PEACE."

The Note concludes:—

"The Soviet Republics place high value on their present relations with Great Britain and seek to maintain and develop them."

"It fully realises that a rupture of relations would be fraught with new dangers and complications involving a threat to peace, and that the British Government in the event of a break would be assuming a heavy responsibility before history."

The majority of questions at issue are so unimportant in comparison with the possible consequences of a rupture that with good will on both sides a satisfactory settlement by a conference could be arrived at in a very short time."

Krassin Misses 'Plane.—M. Krassin, the head of the Russian Trade Delegation, was expected to complete his 2,000 miles flight from Moscow to London by landing at Croydon last night, but he arrived in Holland from Berlin too late to catch the aeroplane.

It was understood that M. Krassin would cross from the Hook by the night boat which reaches Harwich this morning at 9.30.

Trawlers Released.—The Russian delegation in London has informed the Hull Trawler Insurance Company that the steam trawlers James Johnson and Lord Astor have been released. The crew of the James Johnson are expected to reach Newcastle on Thursday.

The King and Queen reached Buckingham Palace shortly after ten o'clock last night on their return from Italy.

First to greet his parents on their arrival at Victoria Station was the Prince of Wales. There was an affecting family incident when the Queen bestowed several kisses on the Prince. The King shook his son vigorously by the hand.

On the platform were the Earl of Derby, Lord Curzon, Mr. Bridgeman (Home Secretary) and a party of Fascisti wearing their black shirts, who uttered their strange cry of greeting and gave the Roman salute.

A pretty incident ensued. Maria Labadini, a war orphan, stepped forward and tendered a bouquet of red roses to the Queen on behalf of the Italian Legion.

The Fascist leader in London was later presented to the King, who told him he had a wonderful time in Italy.

Cheers followed the King and Queen as they drove towards Buckingham Palace, and the popular demonstration was continued along the route and in front of the Palace.

The royal tourists crossed the Channel on the special turbine steamer, Biarritz, escorted by a flotilla of nine destroyers.

The Royal Marine Light Infantry of Deal provided a guard of honour at the Dover landing stage, and as their Majesties left the boat royal salutes were fired from Dover Castle.

FAMOUS AIRMAN ON HALF-PAY

Air-Commodore Samson Transferred in Latest R.A.F. List.

Among R.A.F. appointments notified last night was the following:—

General Duties Branch.—Air-Commodore C. R. Samson, C.M.G., D.S.O., A.F.C., to half-pay list (May 12).

Air-Commodore Samson, who is only forty, won fame in the war. In 1914 he fought in Belgium and France with an armoured car. Later he served in the Dardanelles, Egypt and the Red Sea. He commanded a brigade of French Territorials at the battle of Orchie.

He has recently returned from commanding the R.A.F. in the Mediterranean.

ANXIETY IN MOSCOW.

Many Meetings of All Cossacks Declare Against Trade Capture.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald has received a telegram from M. Kamenev of the Moscow Soviet, which says:—

The Soviet, expressing the unanimous will of workers and all citizens of Moscow, appeals in your person to the British Labour Party to strain all efforts for averting irreparable steps on the part of the British Government.

Moscow people want peace and normal relations with Britain, in the firm belief that in the development of normal trade relations lies the interest both of Russia and Britain.

SEVEN PEOPLE KILLED IN FRENCH AIR DISASTER.

'Plane Bursts Into Flames as It Crashes to Earth.

ENGLISHWOMAN AMONG DEAD.

Seven people—including an Englishwoman stated to be Miss Juanita Bates or Pates, of Brooklands—lost their lives yesterday in a French air disaster.

While on the way to London an aeroplane burst into flames and crashed to the ground near Amiens.

The pilot (Lemen), the mechanic (Jobert) and five passengers were burned to death.

The aeroplane, says Reuter, was engaged in the Paris-London service, and belonged to the Air Union.

It left Le Bourget at 12.37, and a local gendarme, who was the only witness of the accident, saw it take fire and plunge headlong to earth.

THREE AMERICAN VICTIMS.

The charred remains of the victims were found among the wreckage. A watch on one body was found to have stopped at 1.46 p.m.

Passenger Miss Juanita Bates, the passengers killed, says the Exchange, were three Americans—Messrs. Schwab, Laurent and Kramen—and M. Pierrot, a manager of the French Air Union.

Mr. Schwab intended to return to America in the Mauretania at the end of the week when he had completed a business tour in Europe.

The pilot, M. Lemen, was one of the most experienced in the company's service.

EARL'S DAUGHTER'S ROMANCE

Mr. and Lady Pleasance McKenna See their Pictures in Paper.

Mr. Oliver McKenna, who on Saturday married Lady Pleasance Elizabeth Rous, eldest daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, arrived at Monaghan yesterday with his bride.

About midday a young couple purchased at a magazine shop a picture of the bride, and some comments on the photograph of the bride, which led to a conversation on the romantic marriage, and the young man informed the newswriter that he was addressing the newly-wed couple.

Mr. and Lady Pleasance McKenna were on their way to Bragan, where Mr. McKenna's grandfather resides.

PIRATES AS PASSENGERS.

Crew Held Up While Travellers Are Robbed at Sea.

When the Chinese steamer Taishun, bound for Shanghai from Hong Kong, was fifty miles off Swatow, fifty of the passengers declared themselves as pirates and attacked the crew and the remainder of the passengers.

The chief officer attempted to organise resistance, but was promptly shot down. The pirates escaped with £12,000 worth of booty in a commandeered fishing junk.

Mr. H. C. Rowson, the member of the Hong Kong staff of the British Imperial Tobacco Co. (China), Ltd., who has been in the hands of bandits in North Pashoi for three weeks, has been released.

IN DEFENCE OF PANEL.

Doctors' Reply to Coroner's Condemnation of the System.

"So far from there being widespread and increasing dissatisfaction of the general public with the panel system, all the evidence the British Medical Association has is to the effect that the system has greatly improved during the past two or three years."

This is part of an official statement issued by the British Medical Association in reply to the condemnation of the panel system made by Dr. Edwin Smith, the coroner for North-East London.

The statement adds that Dr. Smith's remarks amount to an unwarranted attack upon his own profession.

JOE BECKETT KNOCKS OUT DICK SMITH.

Veteran Loses Despite His Splendid Boxing.

17TH-ROUND VICTORY.

First Holder of the New Lonsdale Belt.

Genuine photographs of the Beckett-Smith fight appear on pages 18 and 20.

Dick Smith made a gallant effort to wrest the championship of England from Joe Beckett last night at Holland Park, but failed after giving a great display of boxing. Smith scored the points, but youth and strength told in the end, and Beckett wore his man down to win by a knock-out.

Beckett had never fought for a Lonsdale heavy-weight belt before. The emblem of the championship had never been at stake in all his previous battles, which had been outside the authority of the National Sporting Club.

But last night the belt was the coveted prize, and Beckett by his victory now holds the trophy.

Long odds were laid on Beckett at the start, but before the contest was halfway through Smith was not only favourite with the crowd, but for the money of those who bet. Fortunately, only a minority of the crowd who love the game do wager on it at the ringside.

BECKETT'S AGE ADVANTAGE.

Smith is thirty-eight and incomparably the best heavy-weight boxer in England. Beckett is a tough, strong fighter nine years younger than Smith, and that nine years made all the difference.

Smith boxed well throughout, and until he tired, about the fourteenth round, had made Beckett at times look a veritable novice as a boxer. He cleverly eluded most of the leads of the champion, and scored freely with a straight left, which he frequently varied by a variety of upper cuts in the close range work.

Most of the rounds were similar in character. Beckett would dash in head down and Smith almost invariably stopped the rush with his left, and when they came to the clinch, which generally followed Beckett's lead, smothered himself from the champion's attack, and used his right with effect.

Beckett all the time was dogged and trying to land the heavy blow which would wipe out all the scientific work of Smith, but was always foiled in the early stages, although at times he played a pretty fancy on Smith's ribs. By the time the battle was half-way through Smith's back was pink.

NINTH ROUND THRILL.

The first real excitement in the fight came in the ninth round. Smith caught Beckett with a right cross to the jaw after feinting with the left, and followed it up with a succession of rights and lefts to the jaw and head. Beckett seemed to go groggy and tried to cover up. The gong at the end of the round must have been welcome music to him.

And Smith, feeling perhaps that he had better finish it at once, sailed in to do so in the tenth round. But the minute's rest had served Beckett well, and although Smith landed three rights to the jaw in quick succession Beckett weathered the storm and came up strong enough for the eleven.

Those who had shouted 7 to 2 on Beckett at the start were now trying to lay 6 to 4 on Smith. Beckett was told not to lie on his man, and although Smith exulted in clearly his big advantage he went on with the half-way distance.

BOXER'S ESCAPE.

Roland Todd Unhurt After a Motor-Car's Double Somersault.

"I am the luckiest man on earth. It's a wonder we were not all killed."

This was the comment yesterday of Roland Todd, the champion boxer, on a motor smash in which he had a wonderful escape. Mr. A. Wilson, Mr. H. Wright and Mr. W. Yates—Todd left his home at Doncaster for the Howden airship station.

After repairing two punctures they put on a new tyre, and this also burst as they were driving at high speed across Skipworth Common, near Selby.

The car turned a double somersault. Bridgewater was hurt, though the wind screen, but only had his clothes torn. Wright was pinned beneath the wreckage and badly cut on the head, face and chin; and Yates was badly bruised, cut and shaken; but Todd, who was hurriedly rescued from the broken glass, escaped without a scratch.

MR. MATHESON LANG'S FILM ROLE.

Mr. Matheson Lang is the star in "Jealousy," an Anglo-Swedish film drama of the sea, presented at the New Oxford Theatre last night, of which the features are a realistic explosion at sea and numerous fights on board ship, culminating in a mutiny.

HAIR CASUALTIES.

DO NOT USE A HOSTILE SHAMPOO

The hair very much resembles an electric battery whose cells need recharging from time to time. The individual hairs are like the wires which radiate from it, each dependent for its supply of current on the little cell at its base.

Each separate hair is nourished by its own tiny oil-gland. These glands are very delicate and harmful shampoos dry up their oil supply. Directly the oil supply of one hair is cut off that hair dies and falls out. The free alkali, contained in most shampoos, is a deadly enemy to these oil-glands, and after every encounter with it, the hair suffers a number of casualties. Some hair-roots are destroyed, others maimed, causing individual hairs to split.

To avoid these dangers it is essential to use a shampoo which, instead of destroying the life of the hair, protects and increases it.

Pure salutar makes a wonderful shampoo, for it not only cleans the hair thoroughly, but puts new life and vigour into it. After this shampoo the hair is not only clean, but well nourished, and an improvement in its condition will soon be seen. It will be healthier, thicker and far more lustrous than before.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR HAIR IN CURL.

Every woman knows the difficulty of keeping one's hair in curl, and no doubt the following information will be found very useful. Obtain from your chemist about two ounces of liquid salutar, instead of being burnt up, as it usually is by the use of hot curling-irons. Liquid salutar is not at all sticky, in fact quite apart from its power of creating waves it forms quite a delightful dressing for the hair.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME THIN.

BY ELIZABETH THOMAS.
Perhaps you are suddenly becoming stout, or it may be that you have been putting on weight for years. In either case the cause is the same—lack of oxygen-carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs in adults of both sexes and all ages, but it may be overcome very easily and without any of the privations that most people imagine necessary to reduce their weight.
Simply go to your chemist and get some oil of orlene capsules. Take one after each meal and one before going to bed. Weigh yourself so as to know just how fast you are losing weight. Wonderful results have been accomplished by this inexpensive recipe, but be sure to get oil of orlene in capsule form.
If your chemist cannot supply them, send 5s. or 5s. direct to The D. J. Little Co., 37, Hatton Garden, London, E.C.1, and a package will be sent to you post free. —(Adv.)

AN AMERICAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Tells How to make a Remedy for Grey Hair.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, who was called Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, made the following statement:—

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken grey hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and 4 ounce of glycerine.

"These ingredients can be bought at any chemist's at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not colour the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off." —(Adv.)

"LOST STATUS."

THE Servant Committee (as we may briefly call it) continues to collect "views" about the reasons that deter girls from entering domestic service.

Most of this evidence has been heard by weary housewives over and over again.

They will complain once more that it is not their fault if "status" is supposed to be lost by the domestic servant.

What status? The status of unemployed "hole-drawer"?

"Surely, surely," the average mistress replies, "this need not deter you from seeking a home and a wage?"

But the socially self-respecting girl reports that her "people" don't want her to be a servant and to wear a uniform which apparently is considered to be a sign of degradation. "All my family have been respectable," said one "young lady" who was asked to be a parlourmaid. "One can see her loss of the head as she uttered the crushing remark. And then there are the music-halls which will make horrid jokes about Mary Ann.

Is it any use to point out that the music-halls, and light comedies, make time-honoured jokes also about parsons—even Bishops—and lawyers and indeed almost all of us?

Yet this tyranny of wit does not deter men from entering the Church, and, once there, aspiring to the episcopacy. It is a pity to take music-halls too seriously. Nobody would be anything at all, if all feared saire as it seems domestic servants do!

But if it is merely a question of raising status and conferring a recognisable respectability on a deserving class, let us found an Order of Domestic Merit or a system of honorific titles for servants. Anything to get out of their heads the idea that they are looked down upon.

For the plain fact is that the Suppliant Women, the housewives of Britain, are humbly on their knees at the feet of the reluctant maid.

PERFECT CLOTHES.

ANY man, ignorant of the technique of tailoring, who strolls through the rooms at Burlington House may be excused for believing that the portraits of men there charmingly exhibit the art of moulding the clothes to the wearer.

"Would that I could afford to dress like that!" he says, in front of the portraits of Lord Berkley or the Duke of Sutherland.

Apparently he is mistaken.

The expert of a tailoring trade journal points out that everything is all wrong with the clothes of the sitters—as the painters show them.

The Duke's suit would "disgrace a dustman." There are "no seams in the coat" of the Head Master of Rugby. There are "multitudinous misfits" on all sides. Painters, we fear, are often carelessly dressed. And this is what happens when they try to dress other people.

What could be done to satisfy the "Tailor and Cutter"?

Perhaps the artist could paint all his portraits "without clothes." Then the expert assistant could come along with a tape measure and carefully "put in" perfectly-fitting suits after the fashions of the tailoring plates. For the artist's point of view, let us agree, is not that of the gentleman in the back parlour who tells you that your shoulder-blades stick out and that you measure a good deal more round the waist than you did when you last visited him.

And yet even this artist—this tailor—makes mistakes.

We wonder a little that he, who so often sends us out with crinkled sleeves and baggy trousers, should suddenly become so critical when he visits the Royal Academy.

SURELY one ought to do one's best to make friends with people in the same office? Otherwise, when and where will one make them?

Hard-worked people do not have much time for cultivating friendships in their leisure hours.

ONE should use a little discretion before making friends in a business house.

"WAIT TILL THE TRAIN STOPS."

A CITY TYPIST" deplores the impatience of passengers who open the doors of railway carriages before the train stops. May I suggest that accidents to people on the platform arising from this practice are often the fault of the victim in not standing back from the edge?

A railway carriage door is but a couple of feet in breadth, and anybody who is hit by one must be standing very near the train. It is easy to condemn those hastening to alight from the train as "impatient," but such an epithet might be turned on to those who cannot wait until the train stops before trying to get on it.

LOVERS OF OPERA.

GREAT enthusiasm is felt by music-lovers over the new season of opera at Covent Garden.

The crowds that are willing to sit in darkness and silence through the "Ring," or such an opera as Mr. Holst's "Perfect Fool," prove that there is a large public for opera in London. Why do we get it so seldom?—A WAGNERITE.

CORRECT ENGLISH.

CORRECT English can, in my opinion, be too correct. The great point is to be perfectly clear.

who wanted everything done for them, and when their wish was granted were unable to eat or play.

Would life be worth living if we had everything done for us?

I don't think so. It is the spirit of competition and rivalry in achievement that keep the world turning, and if automations did all the work—and play—what would there be in life for poor humans?

TREACHEROUS MAY.

THE old proverb about "casting a clout" is about as foolish as most proverbs.

When we get such warm weather as we had at the beginning of this month, there can be no harm in putting on thinner underclothes, so long as one changes again to thick things when the weather turns cold.

In short, one should adapt oneself to changes in the weather as they come and go, and there ought to be no fixed season for "casting clouts."

IN MY GARDEN.

MAY 14.—Rhododendrons are blooming splendidly this season. These are the finest of all evergreen flowering shrubs, being especially valuable since they keep the garden gay until the roses open.

Although rhododendrons succeed best in peat, good loamy soil suits them. Since the roots lie close to the surface, the shrubs should be given a dressing of leaf mould or decayed manure each autumn.

Do not allow faded flowers to remain on the bushes; if these are removed at once the growth of next year's buds will be encouraged.

OPERA AND DRAMA AS "NATURAL" ARTS.

A NEW SEASON BEGINS AT COVENT GARDEN

By ALAN HARRIS.

A CORRESPONDENT has recently drawn attention in these columns to the unusually natural performances of certain actors at present in London, and the other day a singer received high praise for the same reason. It looks as if the public was beginning to weary of the excessive artificiality which marks so much of our acting and singing.

Drama and song are intended, broadly speaking, to convey a natural impression. Acting ought to be as life-like as possible, and singing ought to seem a natural mode of expression. They both often fail to do so for two main reasons.

First, the technique becomes exaggerated. Second, the personality of the performer obtrudes itself.

The object of technique is to enable an actor or a singer to get a natural effect "across" within the limitations imposed by the stage or the concert platform. As soon as it goes further than that, it defeats its own object.

The singer has to articulate his words in a special way in order that the audience may be able to hear them as—ordinarily pronounced; when he overdoes this he spoils his singing. Similarly the actor, as soon as he gives the audience an impression of "mouthing" his words, becomes ridiculous.

INVISIBLE SINGERS?

In order to be natural, the actor or singer has to forget about his own natural self, and think himself into his part. Much singing is spoiled by the personality of the singer, who tries to make an impression for himself, instead of being a vehicle for the composer's ideas. From a strictly musical point of view, the singer ought, perhaps, to be invisible; but in any case there should be as little "fuss" and posturing as possible.

Yet many great singers are almost unbearable because of their exaggerated elocution and "expression," and they are always displaying the ease with which they can do difficult things, like tremolo and sudden changes of tone, which are not really intended by the composer at all.

A parallel case occurred a short time ago, when a man publicly explained that he had missed a pianist's rendering of Schubert because there had been so much of the pianist and so little of Schubert in the performance.

In respect of naturalness, opera is particularly difficult, being in itself a very artificial combination of drama and song; and the difficulty is greatly increased by the fact that it is almost impossible to find performers with both talents. It is a commonplace that actors cannot sing and singers cannot act.

No doubt the music is by far the most important element in opera, and we have learnt to acquiesce in the part of the Beautiful Maiden being taken by a prima donna of mature age and proportions. But as long as opera is presented as a dramatic spectacle it ought to be made as natural as possible. There is no excuse for the famous singer who once gave "Home, Sweet Home" as an encore in the middle of an Italian opera.

Fortunately, however, these excesses are now rare. I fancy we shall not suffer from them during the new opera season which has just begun at Covent Garden.

Why Trufood is different

Trufood, made from the purest milk that comes from the rich pastures of the famous Cheshire dairy country, is milk in its most perfect form. For feeding even the most delicate infant in the hottest of hot summer weather it is unequalled. The rich Trufood powder dissolves in water, forming again in a state of freshness the pure rich milk from which it was made. Trufood is immeasurably purer than the so-called "fresh milk" delivered in summer in the big towns, and also far superior to the ordinary dried milk preparations. Both these latter, if left to stand in hot weather, develop a far from pleasant odour. But not so Trufood.

THE SUPREME MILK FOR INFANTS

TRUFOOD

IN HOT WEATHER

As every mother knows, hot weather is a trial to practically all infants. Peevishness, general restlessness, with sickness and diarrhoea, seem inevitable. But these symptoms really come from improper feeding, and they can be avoided. The secret lies in the proper choice of food during this trying period.

Prevents Summer Diarrhoea

For in Trufood there is no preponderance of putrefactive bacteria, which pass into the child's system there to grow in the intestine, causing summer diarrhoea. On the contrary, Trufood is the surest preventive of this dangerous condition. This is no exaggeration. Your doctor will confirm the truth of it. The child fed on Trufood digests its food well in the hottest weather, sleeps well, is free from sickness, and shows no signs of sore buttocks.

THE KING'S RETURN.

Society Ranchers—Private House Cabaret—Prospects of English Opera.

THE KING AND QUEEN, it is understood, are delighted with their Italian experiences. Not only in Rome was their reception by the people cordial to a degree, but in every village through which the royal party passed there were decorations spontaneously erected by the inhabitants. Their Majesties will not remain long at Buckingham Palace, for they are spending Whitsuntide at the Royal Pavilion, Aldershot.

The Queen's Doll's House.

LORD Frederick Hamilton is, I hear, writing a book about the Queen's Doll's House. This is the miniature mansion designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens, and to which so many eminent people have contributed pictures, furniture and decorations. The house will, I understand, be on view to the public shortly.

Cabaret Party.

Mrs. Corrigan is going to have a cabaret show for the amusement of her guests during dinner this evening at Mrs. Keppel's house in Grosvenor-street. This is quite an American idea which so far has not "taken" over here. The only person to give one before the Corrigans is Mr. Selfridge, who, of course, is also an American.

Jewish Wedding.

The wedding of Lord Swaythling's son to the daughter of Mr. Solomon J. Solomon, is fixed for the 14th of next month, and will take place in the Synagogue at St. Peter'sburgh-place. Both parties have many friends in Christian circles who will no doubt attend and witness what is a most interesting ceremony, the orthodox faith demanding that the bridegroom shall crush a glass beneath his foot whilst a canopy is upheld above the heads of the bridal couple.

At Sutton Place.

A family party, including Lady Rosslyn and Lord and Lady Loughborough, has been down on a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland. The Duke is still tremendously keen about his private cinema and his guests can always rely on seeing a good film after dinner.

Lady Loughborough.

LORD and Lady Loughborough, who have returned from a long visit to the latter's parents in Australia, have taken Lady Cynthia Asquith's house in Regent's Park. Lady Loughborough is a remarkably pretty woman and when she first came to London created something of a sensation.

Shopping in Paris.

MARCHIONESS Curzon has gone to Paris—to get new clothes. The Hon. Mrs. Ronald Greville is another visitor to the French capital, but is expected back at her house in Charles-street in a few days.

Going to their Ranch.

LORD and Lady Minto, who have been making a long stay at Minto House, Roxburghshire, are off to Canada to see Lady Minto's people at Montreal, and thence on to their ranch in Alberta. The call of Western Canada has strongly appealed to Lord and Lady Minto, and they delight in ranch life.

Others.

Others out there are Lord and Lady Arbuthnot, whose Alberta home is called Spotted Lake Ranch, and Lord and Lady Rodney, who, I hear, are doing very well with their farm or ranch. The Prince of Wales has, as everybody knows, a ranch in the North West, and so, too, have the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland.

TO-DAY'S GOSSIP

News and Views About Men, Women and Affairs in General

"Father of the House."

My cordial congratulations to Mr. T. P. O'Connor, whose fellow members entertain him to-day, in the capacity of Father of the House of Commons. He seems to possess the secret of perpetual youth, seeing that, though he is now seventy-four years of age, he is contemplating new literary enterprises, and promises shortly to launch a new literary paper.

A Double.

Mr. Francis Gribble tells me that, when he was working for Mr. O'Connor on the now defunct Sun, he had a unique and interesting experience. It happened that he reviewed in the Sun a book which Mr. O'Connor had just reviewed in the Weekly Sun. His review was considerably less serious than Mr. O'Connor's, and when he next visited the office he was greeted by the assistant editor with the furious question: "What in thunder do you mean by parodying T.P. in his own paper?"

Rostand.

My Paris correspondent tells me that one of the streets of that city is to be named after Edmond Rostand, and that a movement has been started to procure the erection of a monument to his memory. He already has one at Marseilles; but his son, M. Maurice Rostand, declares that Paris has shown ingratitude in not hastening to follow the example which Marseilles has set.

Master Musician.

Gustav Holst, composer of "The Perfect Fool," the production of which at Covent Garden last night was a musical event of prime importance, is of a most modest and retiring nature. Beyond the fact that he is music master at St. Paul's School very little is known about him by the public, but I am able to add that he is fifty years old and that his curious name derives from Swedish ancestry.

Mr. Gustav Holst.

English Opera.

Holst has written some of the most remarkable music of modern times, and that he has turned his attention seriously to opera may mean that English music in that form is at last to come into its own, and that a worthy repertory of operas by Englishmen will be built up. What we have had for so long is not English opera but only opera in English!

Wells' Parody.

To be parodied is, for the writer, to achieve the highest pinnacle of fame. This delicate compliment has just been paid to Mr. H. G. Wells' "Outline of History." A small book has appeared bearing the title of "The Outline of Everything" and written by "Sir J. Arthur Wellswater." Mr. Aubrey Hammond, too, has some amusing caricatures.

Veteran Novelist.

Sir Hall Caine, who celebrated his seventieth birthday yesterday, may now be reckoned as among the veterans of English fiction. It is thirty-six years since the publication of "The Deemster" laid the foundations of its author's future success. Like Thomas Hardy, Sir Hall Caine began his career in an architect's office.

Painted by Aulus John.

Miss Fedora Rozzelli, the actress, who was the beautiful heroine Zammurad in "Cairo," has sat for her portrait to Augustus John. He painted her in her stage costume. Portraits in professional character are the vogue now. Writers are painted writing and singers singing. I can't say I admire the latter. If the mouth is effectively open for singing it must be rather difficult to live with all the time—the portrait, I mean. On the other hand, unless the mouth is well open, it is unconvincing as a portrait of a singer singing.

A Perthshire Estate.

LORD Barnby of Blyth has, I understand, purchased privately the estate of Killiechassie, near Aberfeldy, Perthshire. Lord Barnby is owner of the adjoining Menzies estate. The Killiechassie estate was put up for sale in 1921 at the upset price of £32,000, but there were no offers. Later it was re-offered for sale at £18,000. The price it actually changed hands at has not transpired.

The Bride's Father.

The Hon. Moyra Marjoribanks, whose wedding to Captain R. Heyworth-Savage, of the Royal Dragoons, is on June 12 at Holy Trinity, Sloane-square, is the elder of the two daughters of that sporting peer, Lord Tweedmouth, whose wife was a daughter of Lord Midleton. Lord Tweedmouth, who enjoys the friendship of the King, is a great polo player, and is intensely interested in things theatrical. Once he appeared on the stage, for a wager, in a walking-on part.

Carnations.

Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild has been entertaining a good deal at Gunnersbury, which is an easy motor drive from London. The carnation houses are a feature of the Gunnersbury gardens, and Mrs. de Rothschild is well versed herself in flower lore.

American Stamps.

One of New York's assistant Postmaster-Generals, Mr. Irving Glover, has arrived in London with 500 stamps which are worth 100,000 dollars. He has brought these stamps to show at the Philatelic exhibition at the Horticultural Hall, where the King is also an exhibitor. This is the first time the United States has been represented.

"Eloise" Obsolete.

The collection includes many famous old Presidential stamps, one representing George Washington and his wife Martha. There are also new stamps, among them one representing America's womanhood and another shows the grave of the Unknown Soldier. The special delivery stamp, the design of which is a boy on a bicycle; has, Mr. Glover, says, now been declared obsolete.

Those Fountains.

The fountains in Trafalgar-square are back on active service. It strikes me, however, that compared with some other fountains I know they are rather puny things even at their best. Why not something more in harmony with the magnificence of the most famous square in the world?

D'Alvarez, the famous Italian contralto, who is coming to London after two years' absence.

Mr. Tuby Edlin, who joined the cast of "The Rainbow" at the Empire Theatre last night.

Sherlock Holmes.

I hear that when the full story of the London taxicab mystery is told it will provide not only most dramatic reading but that it will throw an interesting light on the up-to-date methods now employed by Scotland Yard.

"The Music Box."

We have heard a great deal about "The Music Box" revue which ran all last year in New York and to-night at the Palace Theatre we shall see it. There was one little difficulty. In America the musical number, "Say it to Music," was the clou of the piece, but this item was used by Mr. Cochran in "Mayfair and Montmartre." Irving Berlin, the composer, when he heard the sad news, did not turn a hair. He sat down and wrote another number and called it "Tell it with a Melody."

The Weather.

Farmers are greatly perturbed at the cold snap which has set in all over the country. The frost and hailstorms have played havoc with the fruit trees and unless a warm spell comes along soon the damage will be irreparable.

Severity of May.

Every cloud has some silver lining and, after all, there may be something to say in favour of a cold May. Superstition hath it that a wet May will "fill the byres with hay," but a hot May will "make fat churchyards." There are no penalties fixed for a cold month, so we must just turn up our coat collars and take heart!

TIRED OF CELIBACY.—The Archduke Eugen, uncle of the late ex-
Emperor Karl of Austria, has asked the Pope to release him from a vow of celibacy. The Archduke is 60 years of age.

RELEASED AT LAST.—Mr. H. C.
Rowson, the young Londoner employed at Hong Kong, who was recently captured by Chinese brigands, has now been released. He is expected at Hong Kong to-day.

A pretty almond-green crinoline hat, which is trimmed with a wreath of flowers. With it is worn an all-lace jumper, showing the new bolster trimming at the neck, and a cameo necklet of black ribbon.

-GOWNS OF THIS SEASON

This summer frock by Fifiella is another example of the popularity of Egyptian fashions this season. In white marocain it is embroidered in a design modelled on those of ancient Egypt.

A Baby's 'Wonderful Progress'

on Mellin's Food from First Week After Birth

The "wonderful progress" reported by Mrs. Trett-Watson, of Norwich, the mother of the baby shown here, is convincing evidence of right feeding.

"I must write to tell you what wonderful progress my baby has made on Mellin's Food. My little daughter Hazel, who is the picture of health and happiness, has had nothing else since one week old. She has cut her teeth without any trouble whatever."

Mellin's Food when prepared as directed is similar in every way to breast milk. It ensures all-round development and a progress which is a joy to see. Place your confidence in the food with a record

PIP, SQUEAK AND WILFRED

A Happy Family of Pets Whose Comical Adventures Are Famous Throughout the World

UNCLE DICK'S LETTER.

Daily Mirror Office.

MY DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS,—
Letters, postcards, telegrams, a lovely birthday cake sent from Margate, and also packages containing bones and fish cover my desk this morning. Saturday last, as you know, was Pip and Squeak's birthday, and all these kindly messages and gifts have been sent by their numerous friends in every part of the country.

Thank you awfully, boys and girls—and grown-ups, too—for your kindness. I only wish I had time to reply to every one of your letters and postcards. However, if I did that I shouldn't have time to write this letter, and that would never do, would it?

As I celebrate my birthday one day this month, I look upon your birthday congratulations to the pets as partly to myself. How old shall I be? Well, I'm rather getting on, but I'm still young enough to bowl any of you out at cricket or give you a good start in a hundred yards race!

Wilfred, although a little disappointed at not having a birthday, was a very proud rabbit during the past week-end, as the "Ancient Company of Wilfredian Golfers"—a society called after him—held their first spring meeting.

When I have more space I will tell you more about the "Wilfredian Golfers." One day, perhaps, we may have "Wilfredian Cricketers" and "Wilfredian Anglers," or even "Wilfredian Dart-throwers." There's no knowing what our little rabbit may inspire!

Your affectionate
Uncle Dick.

TREE-CLIMBING CRABS.

Squirrels and "Foxes" That Fly and Frogs That Sing

THERE are all sorts of animals which do things you would never dream they could do. For instance, would you expect a crab to climb a tree?

The robber crab, which swarms in great numbers on many of the islands of the South Pacific, is quite happy up a tree. He is a huge fellow, and is quite dangerous; numbers of robber crabs have been known to attack human beings, and even kill dogs and smaller animals. They are very fond of coconuts, and they will climb the loftiest coco palm in order to capture some of the fruit.

A robber crab can climb a tall, smooth tree with perfect ease. When he reaches the top he picks one of the nuts, and carefully climbs down backwards with it, laying it on the ground at the foot of the trunk. Then he goes up again for more.

The natives have a novel way of catching the crabs, and that is by a coconut plantation. A ring of clay and leaves is placed round the trunk of the tree, fairly high up. When the robber crab comes climbing down from the top he puts his claws on the ring of clay, and thinks he has reached the ground. So he leaves his head and, of course, goes hurtling down and is smashed to pieces at the bottom.

PARACHUTES.

Almost as marvellous as the climbing crab is the flying squirrel. This pretty little animal (found in various parts of Asia and America) does not really fly, however.

Its front and back legs are connected by a web of skin, forming a kind of parachute. The squirrel leaps from the branch of a tree, and by means of this parachute glides some thirty feet through the air, lighting on some other branch further off.

The Indian flying-fox can really fly—but it is not a fox at all! It is really an ordinary bat; some of its family are very fond of insects, and fly about at night snapping at every flying thing they see. Others like fruit, and unfortunately, do a great deal of damage to crops.

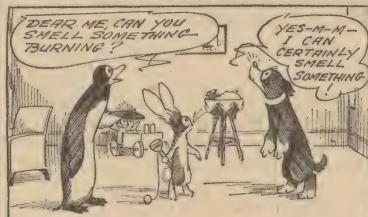

MUSICAL FROGS.

Have you ever heard a frog croaking? Very different is the song of its American cousin, who croaks—quite musically.

There is one American frog, however, which is far from musical. This is the bull-frog; and it has earned its name because of its great, deep, bellowing voice. While its more tuneful brothers sing a pretty chirping note, this huge monster roars out a braying bass which shakes the very river rushes!

I am quite expecting some of you to write telling me about dancing kittens and wire-walking winkles. But I think I shall know if you're genuine or just "pulling my leg."

"SOMETHING BURNING!" A BAD CIGAR ALARMS PETS

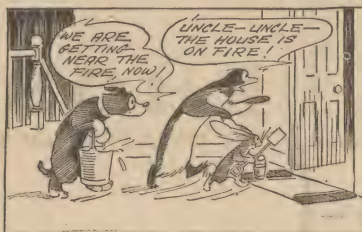

1. While in the nursery yesterday Squeak said she could smell "something burning." Pip agreed.

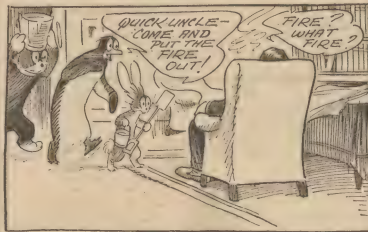

2. All three pets got rather alarmed. "Oh dear, the house must be on fire!" cried Squeak.

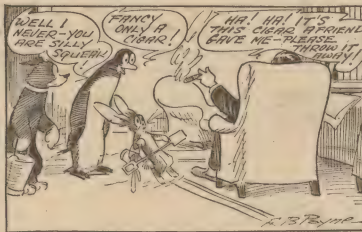

3. Pip and Wilfred got some pailsful of water to put the fire out.

4. They hurried downstairs to my study. "Yes, the smoke smells stronger here!" cried Pip.

5. Tearing up to me Squeak implored me to make haste and put out the fire.

6. The "fire" was nothing else but a very bad cigar I was trying to smoke!

LADIES! A MASS OF SOFT GLEAMY BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Use moist cloth! Double beauty of hair at once.

Immediate! Yes! Certain!—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant, and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine checks dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping irritation and falling hair. If you care for soft, pretty hair and lots of it, surely get a bottle of Danderine from any chemist's for 1s. 3d., 2s. 6d. or 4s. 6d., and try it. (Adv.)

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

Miss Olive Smithson, the well-known Elocutionist and child impersonator, writes: "It was one of my 'off-colour' days that put me into touch with Phosferine. I had made arrangements with a friend to run up to town to do some shopping and a matinee, but the very prospect of preparations, journeying and probable fatigue simply forced me to cancel the whole arrangements. My friend called for me and casually remarked that what I wanted was Phosferine. I took her at her word and sent out for some—and I have taken it at regular intervals ever since. That—I think—speaks for itself. 'Not-up-to-the-mark'—'off-colour'—'dead-tired'—are remarks I never have to make nowadays, and I am convinced that the tonic properties of Phosferine are responsible for this."—Mitcham, Surrey.

A black and white illustration of a man in a dark suit and bowler hat standing next to a vintage car. The car has large, round headlights and a prominent front grille. In the background, a sign reads "CHARLTON". Other figures are visible in the background, suggesting a social gathering or event.

An illustration of a woman with short, dark hair, wearing a light-colored dress, is shown in profile, looking down at a small jar she is holding. She is standing next to a tall, ornate stand that holds a large, rectangular mirror. The entire scene is enclosed within a decorative, rectangular frame with floral motifs at the corners. The style is reminiscent of early 20th-century advertising illustrations.

NEURASTHENIA

NATURE'S OWN CURE.

MEDICINES and drugs, diet treatments, exercise and "rest cures" have alike proved incapable of, or only partially and temporarily successful in, overcoming this condition. Small wonder, then, that the neuroathetic despairs of a cure.

Neurasthenia arises from lack of Nerve Force. The only method of restoring lost Nerve Force is to recharge the system with Electricity, the natural force secreted in the air we breathe.

Don't hesitate. Make up your mind to investigate the famous Pulvermacher Electric Treatment To-day.

Indecision now may cost you a lifetime of ill-health and suffering. Write for free particulars to-day.

For years the difficulty of the Scientist and the Physician has been to find a means, at once cheap, convenient and comfortable to the patient, of employing this great vitalising natural force. Until the Pulvermacher Electrological Treatment overcame these objections, Electrical Treatment was far too costly, too cumbersome and too much confined to expensive hospitals.

Electricity—The Natural Cure.

To-day the Pulvermacher Treatment brings it in its best form within the reach of all. You can carry out this most successful form of Electrical Treatment in your own home. You can wear the Pulvermacher Electrological Appliances at work or at play.

Have You Any of these Symptoms?

If your nerves are weak or disordered, if your limbs tremble, if you have numbness or nerve pains, if you are inclined to brood over your affairs, if you are nervous, timorous and undecided, if you worry over trifles and fear for the future, if your memory and will are weak, if you lack self-confidence, if you feel crushed and choked in a railway carriage or closed rooms, if you feel dizzy in open thoroughfares or nervous among a crowd—these are all symptoms of Neurasthenia, and should not be neglected. A Free Book, entitled "A Guide to Health and Strength," describes how the wonderfully successful Pulvermacher Electrological Treatment cures quickly and permanently Neurasthenia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Nervous Disorders and the many functional troubles due to lack of Nerve Force.

ENQUIRY COUPON

By post this FREE FORM TO-DAY you will receive the "GUIDE TO HEALTH & STRENGTH," which has pointed the way successfully to thousands. Place yourself under no obligation by applying to this Book and particulars of the Pulvermacher Appliances.

SCANDALS of SOCIETY

The Confessions of a Girl of Fashion.

REMARKABLE revelations of the scandalous practices and amusements of so-called smart society have been written by a well-known fashionable beauty, whose recent disappearance from the gilded resorts of London's West End caused something of a sensation in the world of wealth and gaiety in which she moved. Disgusted at last by a life of senseless extravagance and empty pleasure, the writer here sets upon record the most outstanding of her experiences as a member of a fashionable coterie, so that light may be shed upon some of the secret phases of our social system and that public opinion may be directed to the suppression of the abuses she describes. The subjects with which she deals include

The ROMANCE of EMPIRE WINE PRODUCTION. AUSTRALIA.

Vines are reported to have been first grown in the Parramatta district of New South Wales in 1801.

Mr. James Busby is stated to have collected the best vines from France and Spain in 1831, and formed an experimental station in Sydney, but records indicate that he shipped 20,000 vines from Europe before this date. Many vineyard proprietors in New South Wales, Victoria, and South Australia are sons and grandsons of original pioneers in the industry. Australian Vineyards are planted with the world's choicest wine grapes, varieties from France, Spain, Portugal, Madeira, Southern Russia, Palestine and Persia growing luxuriantly in the same district.

Australia is an ideal wine-growing country, in climate, soil and freedom from disease.

P. B. Burgoyne and Co., Ltd., first introduced Australian wines to the United Kingdom in 1871.

No country can produce wines with the similar remarkable characteristics of the full-bodied generous burgundies of Australia—notably Tintara—produced from ferruginous soil, and recommended since 1871 as the finest natural stimulant.

Hurvet Burgundy is the most popular Empire Wine. For daily use it is unparalleled and is indeed one of Burgoyne's "Quality Wines of the Empire."

A great advantage to the general consumer of the best Australian Wines is their uniformity of character and great reliability.

It is wise to ask whether the wine purchased is "Burgoyne's," as the name is a guarantee.

HAND-PAINTED EFFECTS—JOYOUS SUNSHADES.

THE craze for hand-painted effects has spread to the nursery. The newest sunshades, warranted to keep the unsightly freckle from baby noses, are lavishly painted on the inside. The outer covering may be an everyday affair such as taffeta or ruched organdie, but inside there is a perfect riot of kingfishers, butterflies, strange fish and jolly "little people" whose joyously painted coats will withstand the most energetic tubbing.

TO MATCH.

Another fancy is for the sunshade in hats covered with printed silk or hand-painted chiffon, and tiny square-shaped parasols of the same material as the hat. At the babies' modiste I sometimes visit, where grave little mannequins (whose self-assurance I may secret away) parade, and elegant little fashion plates sit in rows and mark down the models of their choice. I saw a charming set of this description in terra-cotta washing silk over which were splashed enormous blue cabbage roses.

RUBBER ROMPERS.

Another nursery fashion of which every mother and nurse will approve is the rubber romper—but rubber only in name, certainly not in appearance. The material is so soft, so supple, and in such enchanting colourings.

It must feel good to be five years old and wear a dear little lace hat to match your frock and a dainty crepe de Chine coat.

IMAGINE a jolly affair made in the sensible American style, elastic at the knees, full and roomy, and finished off with a little round collar and a row of flat white buttons down the back in cherry red rubber, sunshine yellow, and prettiest of all, duck-egg blue. It's the easiest thing in the world to remove all chocolate and strawberry jam stains when an unexpected visitor invades the nursery by means of a damp rag or sponge.

FOR BEST FROCKS.

Cascades of white georgette tucked into the sleeves and a white georgette berthe, with a black sash reversed with white; a straight sash of cerise crepe de Chine slipped round the neck and tied on one shoulder, and another round the hips and falling to the skirt hem; a round collar and cuffs of coffee-coloured lace—these are all new notions of which the smart baby approves.

SEQUIN PIERROT.

I saw a delicious handbag the other day when visiting my pet shop, but before I could stretch forth an acquiring hand it was borne away by some avaricious female. It was of black moire in the new corner of gold sequin pierrot on his knees to a slim crescent moon in the other.

PHILLIDA.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps, prepared shampoos and shampoo powders, contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multifid coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair. Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multifid in a cup with a little tepid water. Then moisten the hair with water and rub the Multifid in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multifid coconut oil shampoo from any chemist. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your chemist gives you Multifid. Beware of imitations—look for the name Watkins on the package.—(Adv.)

A Cream That Removes Superfluous Hair With- out Smell or Irritation.

More pleasant than a depilatory.
Far better than a razor.

Women may now throw away their scraping, irritating razor blades and offensive smelling, nauseating depilatories. A new perfumed, velvety cream called Veet has been discovered which melts hair away just as the heat melts snow. Razors and ordinary depilatories simply remove the hair above the skin surface, but leave the hair away beneath it. Veet is as easy and pleasant to use as a face cream. You simply spread Veet on just as it comes from the tube, wait a few minutes, rinse it off, and every sign of hair is gone, as if by magic. Unlike razors and ordinary depilatories, Veet does not stimulate the growth of hair and has no offensive odour.

Veet is guaranteed to give entirely satisfactory results in every case or your money is returned.

All chemists, hairdressers and stores supply Veet at 3/6. Also sent post paid in plain wrapper for 4/-, which includes postage. (Trial size 6d.) Dae Health Laboratories (Dept. 1602), 68, Eolover Street, London, W.1.

WARNING.—Like all successful products Veet has its imitators. Beware of imitations which may injure the skin. Always insist on having Veet. It is the original and only genuine perfumed Cream for removing hair.

DERBY HORSES SHY OF NEWMARKET THIS WEEK

Prospects for Opening Stage To-day.

BOUVERIE'S HINTS.

Batsmen Come to Their Own in County Cricket.

The weather was rather more genial yesterday for outdoor sport. Racing was confined to two unimportant jumping meetings at Wye and Uttoxeter, and great interest centred in the doings of the county cricketers. The Newmarket second spring meeting opens to-day. Features of yesterday's sport were:—

Cricket.—G. Gunn, in making 220 against Derby at Nottingham, registered the biggest score of the season in first-class cricket. Rhodes completed his century against Middlesex, and others to reach three figures were Shepherd and Llanelli.

Racing.—J. Anthony was successful on Challow and Mr. Madcap at Uttoxeter.

NEWMARKET TO-DAY.

Shri Expected To Go Clse in Chief Handicap.

By BOUVERIE.

Many prominent classic horses are engaged at Newmarket this week, but I am afraid that those who expect anything in the nature of a real Derby trial will be badly disappointed.

Town Guard, Knockando and Ellangowan will not run for the Newmarket Stakes to-morrow. Papyrus may be sent, but the only Derby candidate certain to compete is Twelve Pointer.

Pharos is engaged in the Payne Stakes on Thursday, but it has not yet been definitely decided whether he shall take his chance.

Chief interest in to-day's racing will centre in

SELECTIONS FOR NEWMARKET
2.0.—WELL SHOT.	4.0.—TRIUMPH.
2.30.—DALKEITH F.	4.30.—HEVERSWOOD.
3.0.—SHRI.	5.0.—DREPAPE.
3.30.—FRIAR'S DAUGHTER.
DOUBLE EVENT FOR TO-DAY.
WELL SHOT AND HEVERSWOOD.

the Newmarket Handicap, in which Preston Grange will probably be left with too weight owing to the absence of several above him in the Handicap.

Corporal, with other engagements during the week, will run well if this is his selected race, but my Newmarket correspondent prefers Shri, and as the filly has been going well with Hunt Law I am inclined to share his choice. Treviso will go close.

BECKHAMPTON HOPES.

Heverswood appears the good thing of the day in the second division of the Norfolk Stakes, and from all accounts the Beckhampton stable will go very close for the Somerville Stakes with Petronella. In the latter race, however, I prefer Friar's Daughter, who was none too lucky at the last meeting.

Motherwort, a stable companion to Heverswood and Petronella, takes his chance in the Norfolk Stakes (Division I), and may run well without beating Dalkeith filly, who is thought to have improved since the last meeting.

Triumph, who found the Chester turns too sharp and Papyrus too fast for him last week, may find consolation in the Burwell Plate, although, like Mr. A. de Rothschild's colt, Poisoned Arrow will be better suited to this galloping stretch.

Well Shot, an ideal mount for a small boy, should win the Apprentices' Plate, whilst the Epsom sprinter Time is sure to run well.

COURSE AND TRAINING NEWS.

Points from Tattersall's, the Track and the Paddock.

Victor Smyth rides My Lord in the Derby.

Judith O'Malley and Drumlasie have been struck out of the Epsom Oaks.

Lord Derby has purchased the French five-year-old Centurion, and the horse will be trained by Lambton at Newmarket.

Ozone, who ran so well behind Heverswood at the first spring meeting, will not be saddled for the Somerville Stakes to-day.

Donoghue's mounts this afternoon are Milenko (Newmarket), Motherwort (Norfolk), Stakes, Division I), Petronella (Somerville Stakes), Heverswood (Norfolk Stakes, Division II), and Guardsman (Epsom Stakes).

Kitten on the Keys, in the Somerville Stakes to-day, won over the course early in the month when known as Little City filly.

El Tofan, the newly-named Thunderstone gelding, engaged in the Norfolk T-Y-O Stakes to-day, may be sent for an engagement at Galwick later in the week.

Shepherd, one of the best batsmen against Hampshire at the Oval. G. Gunn, who made 220, the highest score of the season, against the Derby.

ASPIRING LEAGUE CLUBS.

Ten Applications from Football Clubs for Admission to League.

Four clubs in addition to Aberdeen and Newport County, who have to seek re-election as the two bottom teams in the last season, have applied for election to the Southern Section of the Third Division of the League.

Torquay United, Boscombe, Pontypridd and Llanelly have already applied. Assuming that both Newport County and Aberdeen are re-elected, as is probable, there will still be one vacancy in view of the promotion of Bristol City, and the decision to place both descending Second Division clubs in the Northern Section of the competition.

The Torquay club has been assured of the support of their Devonshire neighbours, Plymouth Argyle and Exeter City, and half a dozen sides in the First Division have promised assistance in their election campaign.

Ashington and Durham City, as bottom clubs in the Northern Section, have applied for re-election, and applications have also been received for admission from Doncaster Rovers and New Brighton.

RISING NORTHERN STAR.

Has an Olympic Miler Been Discovered in W. H. Porter?

Those who are concerned with looking out for likely runners to uphold England's banner in the Olympic Games at Paris next year should keep an eye on W. H. Porter, of York.

Though only nineteen years of age, Porter is without doubt one of the finest mile runners in England to-day, and has already shown he is a four and a half minutes' man.

Last summer Porter made very few appearances on the track—his connections realise the importance of "nursing" him up to be an exception as well, and showed good judgment in several first-class races against some men of championship international class.

SIGNING ON.

League Football Clubs Obtaining New Players for Next Season.

Directors of League football clubs do not allow the grass to grow under their feet during the close season. They have to prepare for the future, and at the end of each season immediately get on the war path for new players.

Captures by Sheffield United and Gainsborough Trinity are now announced. The Sheffield club has secured Bernard Harris, left back, from Rotherham County, at a big fee, and Gainsborough Trinity have signed Harry Cole, outside right, of Rotherham Legion. North Forest also has an eye on Cole.

Freeman, the Liverpool-born footballer, who has played for Oldham since adopting professionalism, was transferred to Middlesbrough yesterday. Everton wanted to sign him, but stipulated that he must leave his work. This he declined to do, Chislen also sought his services.

HALL NOT TO PLAY.

Lancashire-South African Bowler Ruled To Be Ineligible.

Hall, the South African bowler, is not qualified to play for Lancashire in the County Cricket Championship, the M.C.C. decided yesterday.

The point arose in a curious way. Hall is a native of Bolton and the second rule governing county qualifications reads that a county cricketer is always eligible to play for the county of his birth, but Rule 1 states that a cricketer may not play for more than one county in a year and "a British Colony, Dependency, or State shall for the purpose of this rule be regarded as a county."

Hall played for South Africa against England during the recent tour.

MAD FOOTBALL FINANCE.

Arsenal's Attempt to Call a Halt to Orgy of Spending.

Sir Harry Norris has given notice of an amendment to the rules of the Football League which will have the effect of limiting the transfer fees payable for any professional player to £1,500, or any other sum agreed on by the majority of clubs at the annual meeting of the League.

The amendment, which is being submitted on behalf of the Arsenal, invests the Management Committee with power to refuse their sanction to transfers if they believe attempts are being made to evade the regulations.

The tendency of recent years has been to pay extraordinarily high figures. Sunderland were reported to have paid £13,000 for the transfer, in 1921-22, of Gilbey, Paterson and Cresswell. For the last named it was stated, and one does not remember ever to have seen a denial of the statement, that £5,500 was paid. £5,500 was paid by Falkirk for the transfer of Sidney Puddefoot, of West Ham.

Other big fees that have been reported during late years are: £4,500 by Preston North End for Hamilton, £4,500 by Sheffield United for Mercer, £3,500 by Birmingham for Lane, and a like amount for Crooks.

Everton spent £4,500 to secure Faceracker, whom they have since transferred to Wolverhampton Wanderers, and midway through the season just ended spent quite a fortune in securing the transfer of Cock, Troup and McBain. A limit must be imposed in the interest of the clubs themselves. Few teams have paid their way this season; some of the oldest clubs in the country are seriously jeopardised because of their financial position. Derby County, for instance, in spite of the fact that this year they reached the semi-final of the Cup, are in bad way, and according to Mr. J. Holmes they have had to doubt whether £10,000 would clear their liability to the bank. G. P. S.

RHODES THE WONDER

Veteran Scores 126 and Takes 5 Wickets for 29.

LANCASHIRE WIN.

Batsmen kept themselves warm yesterday, several famous players running up big scores in first class cricket.

The veteran Wilfred Rhodes had a great part in placing Yorks in a remarkably strong position against Middlesex at Bradford. Batting with all his old confidence and skill he put on 126 out of 411, at which Yorks declared with one wicket in hand.

Middlesex were dismissed in an afternoon's cricket for 122, Rhodes taking 5 wickets for 29, and Roy Kliner 3 for 28. The champions appear to have lost none of their strength in any department.

Another noteworthy performance was that of George Gunn, who made the first double century of the season at Nottingham against Derbyshire. Not out 80 at the close of play on Saturday, he put on another 140 with apparent ease before being bowled by A. H. Jackson.

The Kent bowlers, Woolley and Freeman, beat the Oxford batsmen cheaply and divided the wickets, Woolley getting five for 33 and Freeman five for 47.

Two centuries were contributed by Surrey players against Hampshire, Shepherd raising his total to 133 and Harrison scoring 155 out in two and a half hours. Fender treated the crowd to an exhilarating 73; he reached his 50 in forty-five minutes, and was out in an hour, his runs including twelve fours and three threes. The sixth wicket added 112, and at its fall Fender declared.

Hants, with 11 wickets in hand, were 300 runs behind at the close.

Lancashire had an easy victory at Leicester. They gave a steady batting display, and Green and May, Green in particular, put on 301. Thanks largely again to Parkin's brilliant bowling Leicester were out for 100 in an hour, four runs more than they had in their first venture. Lancashire thus won by an innings and 109 runs.

Parkin in the two Leicester innings took thirteen wickets for ninety-eight.

NATIONAL HUNT RACING.

Good Fields Compete at Wye and Uttoxeter Meetings.

Some interesting jumping was seen at Wye and Uttoxeter yesterday, and at both places some good fields were seen during the afternoon. The meeting at Wye and fifty-four at Uttoxeter. At the latter meeting J. Anthony was successful on Challow and Mr. Madcap.

At Wye the winners were: Waltzaway (6-1), Ballysack (2-5), Will Swing (9-4), Greenmount (even), Irish Light (6-1), and Boddington (10-1).

Winners at Uttoxeter were: Successor (7-3), Challow (10-1), Devonport (4-6), Ballyheen (5-1), Mr. Madcap (8-11), and Mainsail (8-1).

American Women Swimmers Defy U.S. Amateur Union's Edict.

Rignin, Miss H. Wainwright and Miss G. Ederle are sailing to-day by the "Berengaria."

The A.A.U. is like the English A.S.A. in that it governs the sport and they are both members of the International Federation and must each recognise the other's suspension of entry. It is just possible that these young women may have their journey for nothing, but though perhaps debarred from taking part in competitions, there is nothing to stop them giving exhibition swims, which alone would be an educational item to many.

SPORT IN BRIEF.

News Items and Gossip on Men and Matters of the Moment.

Clapton Orient have re-engaged Omond, their right full-back.

Ewart and Bradford.—It is stated that the reason for the serene air of the connection between Jack Ewart, the Scottish, international footballer, and Bradford City is due to Ewart wishing to make terms for his benefit which did not meet with the approval of the club.

Thomas D. Armour, the famous Scottish golfer, who has been in the United States for some time, has called his entry for the British Open championship, which is to be held at St. Andrews in the month of August. Armour, who played for Britain in the match against United States at Hoylake, three years ago, has lately been golfing on the Florida coast.

In the match for the French Rugby championship played between teams from Toulouse and Bayonne. The Toulouse team won.

4 CHILDREN GASSED.

Father's Tragic Discovery—
Two Dead in Bed.

WIFE UNCONSCIOUS.

Entering a bedroom in his home at Morpeth (Northumberland) yesterday morning, after returning from work, Thomas Forman, a miner, found two of his children dead in bed and two others and the mother unconscious.

Thomas, aged twenty months, and Anne, two years and seven months, had died from gas poisoning.

The two other children soon recovered, and Mrs. Forman is progressing satisfactorily. The mother is in a delicate state of health.

HASTINGS CARNIVAL.

Pip, Squeak and Wilfred to Appear in Whitsun Revels.

Beginning on Saturday next, Hastings will be en fête during the Whitsun holidays. King and Queen Carnival enter the town at noon on Saturday, and until the following Wednesday all the town will hold high revelry.

There will be sports meetings for grown-ups and children, fancy dress dances, and baby competitions.

On Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday The Daily Mirror gives prizes in fancy dress competitions at the bandstand, and four "mystery" prizes at fancy dress dances on the Caroline Parade.

In addition, there will be Daily Mirror trophies and prizes for the horsemanship and jumping exhibition on Monday; the best Pip, Squeak and Wilfred costume in the children's procession on Tuesday; and the baby show and beautiful children show on Wednesday.

A pageant representing the Battle of Hastings will be held in the White Rock Pleasure Gardens on Monday; and on Tuesday Pip, Squeak and Wilfred will appear in a children's procession.

CLEVER WOMEN WIN.

Two Competitors Share Bisto Prizes
of £100 and £50.

The awards in connection with the prizes Cerebos Limited offered for the best ways of using their world-famed product, Bisto, have now been published.

The first and second prizes of £100 and £50 were divided equally between Mrs. Jackson, Smethwick, Birmingham, and Miss Carr, 30, Hillcrest-road, Acton Hill, London, whose entries were so good that there was nothing to choose between them. The prizes of £20 and £10 to the grocers who supplied the first and second prize-winners were divided between Messrs. Moyle and Adams, Smethwick, and Messrs. Coopers' Stores, Acton. Five prizes of £2 each and twenty prizes of £1 each have been sent to the grocers who supplied the next twenty-five prizewinners in their order of merit.

Miss Carr.

Markets showed a dull tone. A further decline in German marks to around 200,000 was an adverse factor. Prices were weakish around 68.65. War Loan closed full 100½, Convertibles 79½.

Southern B. were favoured in Rails 14½, also Under-ground shares at 42. Antofagasta 35½ and United Har- anas 67 were bought in foreign rails. Rio Tinto fell sharply on Paris sales to 54½; most of the South American were weak.

In Industrials locals predominated. Textiles were all easier. Gloucester Wagons 40s, and Amalgamated Press 57½, 6d. were good spots. Associated News deferred also advanced to 68. Daily Mirror was 69½-16, Sunday Pic- torial 44. Commercial and Cater 22½, 6d. Africa East 40s. Liptons were bought 29½. Mappin and Webb 17½, 6d.

The Family Treasure

Maggie's a perfect treasure!

Her mistress doesn't have to follow her about the house with fingers searching for dust. Her work is always well and truly done—because "that Kruschen feeling" puts her on her mettle.

She began to take the little tasteless daily dose herself soon after she was told never to forget the Kruschen bottle when laying the family breakfast-table. She saw just what Kruschen does to prevent domestic friction. She very quickly proved for herself that the Kruschen way to health is the quickest and surest way to happiness as well, and happiness is the best lubricant for the machinery of the home.

There's no secret about it. The clearness and virility of your blood-stream are the keystone of your health. Kruschen sends clear, refreshed, vigorous blood streaming through every vein, for its six salts correct in Nature's own way the unhealthy tendencies of an indoor life. By stimulating the liver and kidneys, gently but efficiently, to a proper performance of their duty, Kruschen rids the system of all its clogging impurities, priming every fibre of the being with tingling vitality, putting an end to depression, headaches, constipation—all the little persistent ills that make life just not worth while.

A 1s. 9d. bottle contains 96 morning "pinches." Get one at your chemist's now and start a new life to-morrow.

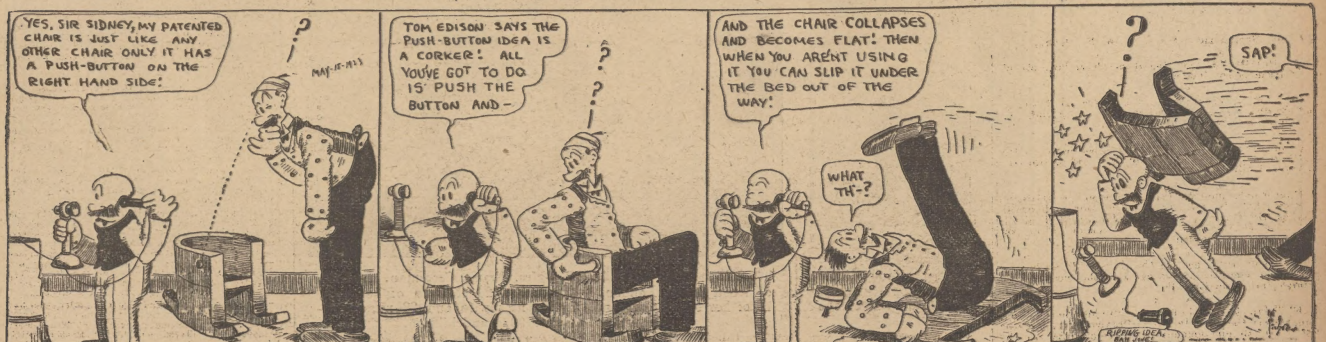

Tasteless in Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a sixpence. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Good Health for a Farthing a Day

A 1s. 9d. bottle of Kruschen Salts contains 96 doses—enough for three months—which means good health for less than a farthing a day. The dose prescribed for daily use is "as much as will lie on a sixpence," taken in the breakfast cup of tea. Every chemist sells Kruschen. Get a 1s. 9d. bottle to-day and start to-morrow.

A MAYFLY IN THE INSECT PLAY ESSEX v. GLOUCESTER COUNTY CRICKET AT LEYTON

Miss Gwen Elphiu, a clever dancer, appearing as a Mayfly in "The Insect Play," the satirical fantasy by the brothers Capek just produced at the Regent Theatre, London. —(Daily Mirror photograph.)

BRIDGE CLUB CLAIM.—Captain Auguste Victor de Cordes, from whom Mrs. Janet Richards claims damages for alleged breach of agreement in connection with a London bridge club.

DANCING TO-DAY.—Master Robert Storer, the only boy competitor in the finals of the dancing contest at Kingsway Theatre to-day in aid of the Sunshine Homes.

Freeman, of Essex, caught by Dennett after making 9 in the match against Gloucester.

LAST NIGHT'S BOXING.—Dick Smith (left), who met Joe Beckett last night for the heavy-weight championship of Great Britain, with Carl Brisson, the Danish boxer. Pictures of the contest will appear in The Daily Mirror to-morrow.

MOTHERED 68 CHILDREN.—Mrs. Emma Crossman, aged 82, of Wood Green, London, has mothered 23 children of her own, 17 of her second husband's by his first wife and 23 nurse children. She has over 90 grandchildren.

Bessant, the Gloucestershire bowler, going out to field. Incidents in the match between Essex and Gloucester at Leyton.
